

EPISCOPAL MISSIONS

African Palms USA turns an African product (a simple palm cross) into a source of income and humanitarian aid for Africa.

Episcopal, Methodist, and Presbyterian African and American churches of African Team Ministries fund relief, missions, and evangelism in East Africa.

The American Committee for KEEP works in agriculture, education, health, and Christian democracy with rural people of Japan, the Philippines, and the USA.

Church Periodical Club is an Episcopal ministry to supply free books, magazines, tapes, videos, and computer programs.

El Hogar Projects provides a home and education in a Christian environment for abandoned, orphaned, and poor children in Honduras.

The Episcopal Medical Missions Foundation health professionals and lay members support medical missions in Honduras, Jamaica, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Nigeria, & Uganda.

The Episcopal Partnership for Global Mission enables Episcopalians to participate in God's global mission.

Five Talents International is an Anglican initiative to combat poverty in developing countries using micro-enterprise development.

Friends of Cuttington College is a fund-raising and advocacy group for Cuttington University College in Liberia, founded by the Episcopal Church in 1889.

Global Episcopal Mission (GEM) Network increases awareness and participation of congregations in global mission, and engages bishops and diocesan leadership.

Global Outreach for Addiction Leadership and Learning (GOAL) trainers provide pastoral care seminars for clergy and Christian recovery from addiction training in the US and abroad.

Haiti Connection is a network to share experiences of mission and ministry in Haiti, explore resources, build relationships, and express solidarity with the people of Haiti.

Matthew 25: Ministries rescues and reuses products to provide basic necessities, skill development, and disaster relief.

The Miami Valley Episcopal Russian Network fosters a spiritual partnership between St. Nicholas Russian Orthodox Church in Sablino, Russia, and participating parishes.

Partners-in-Ministry-in-Liberia (PIMIL) is individuals and organizations in the United States to support Liberian children in their educational needs.

The Seamen's Church Institute of New York and New Jersey serves the special needs of the world's merchant mariners and the maritime industry.

The Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge supports creation, preparation, and distribution of Christian knowledge.

South American Missionary Society (SAMS) has 50 long-term missionaries serving in Latin America and Spain.

Trinity Grants channels resources from New York City throughout the Episcopal Church and worldwide.

Uganda Christian University Partners is a U.S. non-profit charitable organization helping build up Uganda Christian University.

